On this land for many thousands of years the traditional owners of Australia have celebrated and shared through stories, songs, dance and music. For more than half a century the Uranquinty Folk Fest shared music and stories here on Wiradjuri country. We acknowledge the Wiradjuri and their elders and emerging who care for this country, and offer our respect and thanks to them. May music bring cultures and countries together in harmony.

Note: Daylight saving commences 2am Sunday (when it becomes 3am), so the Sunday program is in Daylight Saving Time.

Presidents Message:

Well another Festival and Number 52, what an achievement and thanks to all the committees and all volunteers in getting to 52 festivals. Particular thanks to the catering team who do an excellent job in feeding you all. If you would like to be part of the committee just let us know during the festival, we could do with people from the Wagga Wagga area. Enjoy the festival and see you at the 53rd.
